

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 12.

FREEDMEN'S RATIONS.—The Richmond Enquirer, speaking of the order stopping the rations of the crowds of freedmen who have come into the towns in Virginia, deserting their former homes, says: "In the days of that barbarous (we quote Sumner et al) institution slavery, a slave pauper was unknown, the master being compelled by law to provide for his helpless slaves. Our city is crowded with a great rabble of negroes, who have flocked here from all parts of the country, and many of whom, too lazy to work, prefer starving and stealing to honest labor. Its own poor, black and white, the city is willing to provide for; but it is a little too much to expect that Richmond, after being beggared by conquest, is now to become a vast charitable institution for the support of every idle vagabond who chooses to squat in some shanty and clamor for aid."

The New York Freeman's Journal says: "It is many years ago that we began to insist, in these columns, that our fundamental trouble was not in the slavery question, or in any other question of slave politics. The trouble is that our institutions were framed to suit an intelligent, and a virtuous people; and that they have fallen into the keeping of a people shallow in their ideas, and corrupt in their politics."
